ORDINANCE PROVIDES FOR IMPOUNDING OF DOGS

As a result of the bitter feeling that has been aroused as a result of the wholesale shooting of dogs on the street by the chief of police, more or less interest centers in the actual provisions of the so-called dog license ordinance, Section 6, of this ordinance, which is self-explanatory, reads as follows:

"Sec. 6. The marshal or his deputies shall impound any dog running at large contrary to the provisions of this ordinance, and hold the same for redemption for the period of 48 hours, and in case of the owner desiring to redeem the same he shall first take a license and pay to the marshal the sum of 50 cents a day for the keeping of such dog, and the further sum of $1 for marshal's fee. The license, however, shall not be collected when there is not redemption of dogs so impounded prescribed in this section, the marshal then being authorized to destroy such dogs and remove the carcasses, as may be directed by the board of trustees."

Abren Maes, guardian of the minor heir, Isabel Maldonado, daughter of the late Fernin Maldonado, has made his final report in the probate court and has been discharged from further responsibility in the matter. His charge was recently married to Enrique Gallegos and now resides with her husband at Santa Rosa.
